1. These are the only _____ in the Gospels that are _____, and they appear in all three Synoptics. (Matthew 9:18-26; Mark 5:21-43; Luke 8:41-56)

2. On the shores of Capernaum at least two people were waiting for Jesus, one man with a dying _____, and a woman suffering from an incurable _____. (v. 40, cf. Mark 5:21)

3. Jairus was about to lose a daughter who had given him twelve years of _____, and the woman was about to lose an illness that had brought her twelve years of _____. (vv. 41-43a)

4. The cause of this woman's hemorrhaging is unknown, but she had spent all of her _____ on doctor's, and rather than get better, she grew _____. (v. 43b, cf. Mark 5:26)

* Why would this woman's hemorrhaging make her ceremonially unclean?

5. She most likely seen her chance slipping away as Jesus went off with Jairus, so she said, "If only I may _____ His clothes, I shall be made _____." (v. 44, cf. Mark 5:28)

6. While the woman thought she could be healed and slip away, sympathetically Jesus elicited from her a wonderful _____ of what the _____ had done for her. (vv. 45-47, cf. Mark 5:32)

* How was her public testimony a rebuke to the crowd?

* Does God care about ALL unnamed “nobodies” like this woman?

7. Jairus had been waiting as Christ spoke with the woman, but now a messenger came with the news that he _____ most; they had _____ too long, his daughter was gone. (v. 49)

* From verses 48 and 50 can we assume that personal faith in Christ is really important to God?

8. Jesus would be viewed as ceremonially _____ by touching the unclean woman; Jairus' _____ is evident in his continuing on with Jesus and allowing Him to enter his house. (v. 51)

9. Despite Christ's reputation the mourners laughed at Him when He said emphatically, “she is only sleeping;” this was _____ perspective, not _____. (v. 52-53)

10. With a Sovereign _____, the Lord of life called the little girl's _____ back to her body, and she arose, removing all doubt that she was alive once again. (vv. 54-56)

* How can you personally apply this truth today?
